We Are Amused!

Bertie Pearce

Even though work was the bedrock of Victorian progress and improvement, Queen Victoria's reign saw the greatest upsurge in leisure pursuits ever witnessed.

Our Society enjoys lively and informative lectures on the first Tuesday of the month.

Lectures are held in the Guildhall, Sandwich at 11am.

Coffee is served from 10:15am until 10:45am and provides an opportunity to socialise and meet new, like-minded people.

Cost per lecture is £6.

(This is refundable if you decide to join our Society where the annual membership is £45 which, amongst other benefits, allows you to attend a full year of 10 lecturers)
